

are you an unconscious one, you ask for truths that you know." The chief priest turned deathly pale and the animals became restless, but... I continued: "Your wings are paralyzed and your light is dimmed. Why don't you ask the Gods for new wings?

But then also ask how to build those largest wings must use, otherwise you will fall like a flint and crush yourselves."

The Queen looked very seriously at the high priest, but the King said to him: "My dear Iseués, you remain the answer guilty? Are you lame? Is your child and student ready for that? you can no longer follow it? Isis is spoken here is worthy. And you, dignitaries, counselors, priests of Isis and writers, I ask you all: Why must I judge? Is this so? incomprehensible? A priest of Isis has received the largest wings, is completely one with the Gods, should we not be grateful? Well, my dear Iseués, can you answer?"

My Father saved himself, but I was victorious. He said: "Is it possible for the Pharaoh to understand that the miracles that now occur be polite, make Isis great? But they come over our heads, as a flood overflows the earth and the waters cannot be stopped."

"That is clear to me, dear Iseués, but get some rest, you are very tired and then you can recover. But I will judge. I invite all of you to share the sacrament with us. To me Pharaoh said, and to all present: "I grant this priest of Isis, who is worthy of the greatest wings my favorite animals, you all know what this means." There was joy all around me. Dectar came to me. With this gift I was actually honored as chief priest of Isis. I returned to earth and when I awoke asked Pharaoh to me: "Priest of Isis, did you hear me?"

"May I thank the great Pharaoh for this mighty thing gift? The Gods of Isis want me to convey their thanks too."

The Father of Isis thought it was terrible. Then we stayed together and profound conversations followed. Myra came to me, but I took her to Dectar. Everyone was asking questions and all that I had to answer questions.

The Queen asked: "Do you live in miracles every moment, 352 priest of Isis?"

"If the Gods want it, miracles can happen at any moment be experienced."

"Can you also experience all those wonders here, in our area?" I felt the danger that now threatened me and replied: "The Gods give us mighty gifts, but for that there is all sacrifice necessary."

"And if the Gods so wish?"

"I must obey orders, great Queen, and I will accept them."

"Would you like to serve your King in his environment?"

"If the Gods grant me that honor, how grateful I would be are."

But I had to control myself, because I felt what she wanted and wanted wanted from me. Then she called her child and said to her: "Karina, tell the high priest of Isis your dreams, Gods will explain them."

A beautiful creature approached me. Outwardly she seemed whole serious, but her inner consciousness was empty. There was a feeling not in her. She told me about her dreams, which were not dreams were. They were meaningless thoughts and desires of an unnatural child. Soon she left me, my answers were too deep and she couldn't follow them even if she did she as if she understood me. I was now already following those present. Many of them were completely closed, yet I read into their souls and could follow them. In this house lived hatred and jealousy, envy, vanity and horror, even though they now feel for higher things and the wonders they had come to know. My leader left I noticed a lot, for which I was very grateful. People wanted to possess my blood and I was also a counselor of the Pharaoh. Then I would be a different slave than I am now already was. Then I received the message from my leader, the King to talk about my work. I hadn't thought about that anymore and for this too I gave thanks.

I asked: "Would the great Pharaoh grant me the right, so that I can share all my experiences that I have experienced through the Gods may become, can write down. And Pharaoh would tell it to the chief priest of Isis, so that I also know of the Father of Isis he approved?"

"If the Gods so desire, High Priest of Isis, and thou hast need help, I am ready to help you in everything."

He immediately reported it to the chief priest and also this was decided in my favor. I thanked you again for everything. Then I showed them various wonders and redeemed for them eyes up. Some thought it was miraculous, but there were there were also those who became anxious. Dectar was in heaven and with him Myra, but the time to return home had come. We all took our leave, and Pharaoh's animals followed me, the greatest gift I had received, needed more I actually don't own it. The Father of Isis felt outdated.

know what inspiration, but that mask has also fallen a long time ago. We know now what inspiration is! If you are not completely at one hundred percent, say René, you can never experience true inspiration when you give. You have to exhaust yourself completely first. That means he does this feels. I believe that he feels and understands Van Goch. Inspiration is spiritual reception. You are now in contact for René and for Mohammed with supernatural worlds, with ghosts! People who are disconnected from the physical systems. That's what they say, but when will we get this? the evidence? This mask is far from falling. So I continue.
When René was born — because nothing special happened afterwards more — we stood in front of other masks. Too big a head.
Erica from the cook, it was raining. I believe these were the after-effects for the soul.-She was one with her child all that time! I'm already taking this on and this is influenced while wearing. What René gave her, let her experience, she couldn't get rid of it all at once, she had to undergo And so that happened. I have then talked to her and took her on this journey, which has not yet come to an end is. About the jungle stages, not about the homecoming, because even now we always experience something of that journey, our journey, through hell and heavens went. René's head changed. I now think, too big material impact. This tissue stood for the deformation, but it did not come so far. After three months you could already see this head changing. A material one operation with a spiritual foundation. There are no complexes to see. The doctors didn't know, neither did we. Still, I had mine feelings for it. These were, as I said before: spiritual distortion, but it didn't get to that point!

And then we started the journey. Erica recovered, René recovered phenomena. He smeared feces and made drawings by. So we see that those feelings already revealed themselves at that time. Now it has become art. Then came the notes. And my dreams. I cannot answer those notes. As soon as possible I hope to get the answer. We know of his departure to the institution. The inner life predominated. What remains is my dreams, my dissolve from this world. This is how I got in touch with him. When René was in the crib, it already started, he came loose of the physical systems. His pre-century life as a jogi or magician awakened to his personality. What I experienced as a dream, was for him an occult law. I was frantic, but because of him. Because me followed his life, he drew me to him. I can't see it any other way. That one the other world, I have talked about it before, is ahead of the world our soul. But we were not yet free, not completely from ourselves, or we should have been able to see that world as it was or is! And I didn't see that. He does, he says: I know those people! I don't, but I probably experienced the first degree of that. I assume that if the soul lives forever and is human, then so are we will not suddenly be in the highest class and first a preliminary study have to make. In any case, it taught me that the soul is attached to the soul physical systems. René was older in that world. He came into life of Rachi-Hadju! The spiritual prodigy woke up, the soul left across the physical systems. This is very simple, it is not possible otherwise, this is the sacred truth. Many Easterners have experienced that and you still hear about it. That this belongs to a Western child is extraordinary. A proof, says Mohammed, that our wisdom is based on the West passes.

What I was able to experience during that time brought me to life from René. There is nothing more that can be said.

Because I wasted, I say it again, I came to unity with his life!

Because I too have that attitude. Mohammed says: you have souls coordination. We have known ourselves in the past. But that is to say, that an unerring hand is now working again on our lives.

Poor Hans, then it becomes dangerous! I don't want to think about you anymore!" I walked into the woods to think better. I'm waiting on René. I want to ask him some questions and I'm curious how he will do it, she now answers. I'm looking into what happened during these years. What else do I need to know?

operation and means consciousness. Man must therefore acquire the normal, which is obtained through motherhood.

As a man

we walk next to creation, but as mother we experience all these unconscious degrees and sink into them if our consciousness is not complete.

So when the mother receives a life, André, experiences the birth of the child, this means that this personality as mother is busy acquiring a different and higher degree by experiencing this process. She herself cannot reach out for this. The soul that is attracted will arrange everything automatically, but the mother's degree of life decides. However, it is different when the birth takes place as a result of the carmic law. In that case the personality leaves itself with the mother with whom it has dealings from previous lives are born, regardless of the mother's grade of life. However, attracting one's own degree is the most important thing for the mother's feeling, because now the personality is truly a mother! The mother serves, and through this spatial serving she herself goes higher. Through this birth one life leads to the spiritual awakening through another. Mother and child experience this as one event, one condition, one law, rebirth on earth.

Each grade of life possesses this feeling that determines the attunement of life and has become a personality. Do you understand what I mean, now

we stand for motherhood? Do you feel what it means to be able to live as a mother? The normal being creates, desires to possess the child; the other consciousness is not capable of it. Now we get to know the unconscious, so this life still has to awaken before motherhood. But before that happens, this woman has already experienced succumbing and then we find that degree again among these sick people. It is pure trial and error on the way up, but people on earth do not yet understand the divine purpose of this! An animal loves and can experience motherhood. But animals are not people. It is now necessary that the personality as a human being starts to follow and experience what is human, if it wants to awaken to its own grades of life. The highest grade of life on earth is the spiritual. Everything that lives below is still spiritually unconscious and successively represents the pre-animal, animal, gross or material grades. All these grades of life are necessary or man would be in the higher one degrees succumb and no longer awaken. But God knew that the personality would experience step after step and gave His life all these possibilities. During this training we fell, until we finally reached the highest level and then the sphere 300 of light entered. For humans on earth, this is normal consciousness as a mother.

I could go into this in more detail, André, but that would be too much for you. Only later will we follow these laws and then I will explain them to you from the beginning. However, I hope that you have understood that motherhood is the essential thing in Space, because through the mother the personality enters true life, it starts to feel one with God, because it undergoes creation as a mother. All these sick people are not there yet, because these people have yet to reach that height. One is now a little further along in this than the other, but all now see their lives wasted. This is not a problem with God, because the next life awaits. Thousands of organisms are ready, all of which must be experienced if the personality is to survive to receive conscious motherhood. So it is the weaknesses that must be overcome during life that strengthen the personality.

So all these people, André, still have to awaken to their grade of life and to motherhood. They are backward in their level of life. Their own grade of life is below that of average humanity; However, they do stand for it, that is, for the motherhood in which they will then continue to stand. So they are preparing to participate in creation and to serve God's evolutionary plan as husband and wife, but they are not yet able to do so. This is material insanity. So an insane person is in the process of waking up. As a man he cannot experience anything else but in the next

Living as a woman, he - this person - experiences passionate love, which will soon be aimed at normal, conscious reception.

Then this life represents its own grade of life, of which it currently neither understands nor feels anything, because the threshold has yet to be crossed.

Seven material degrees must be experienced by the personality before spiritual attunement is achieved. We therefore immediately see the degree to which man is and can now determine the degree of insanity from this. We now know what this soul must experience and what the astral connection is like. We also know whether someone will perish completely. Whether or not this is possible.

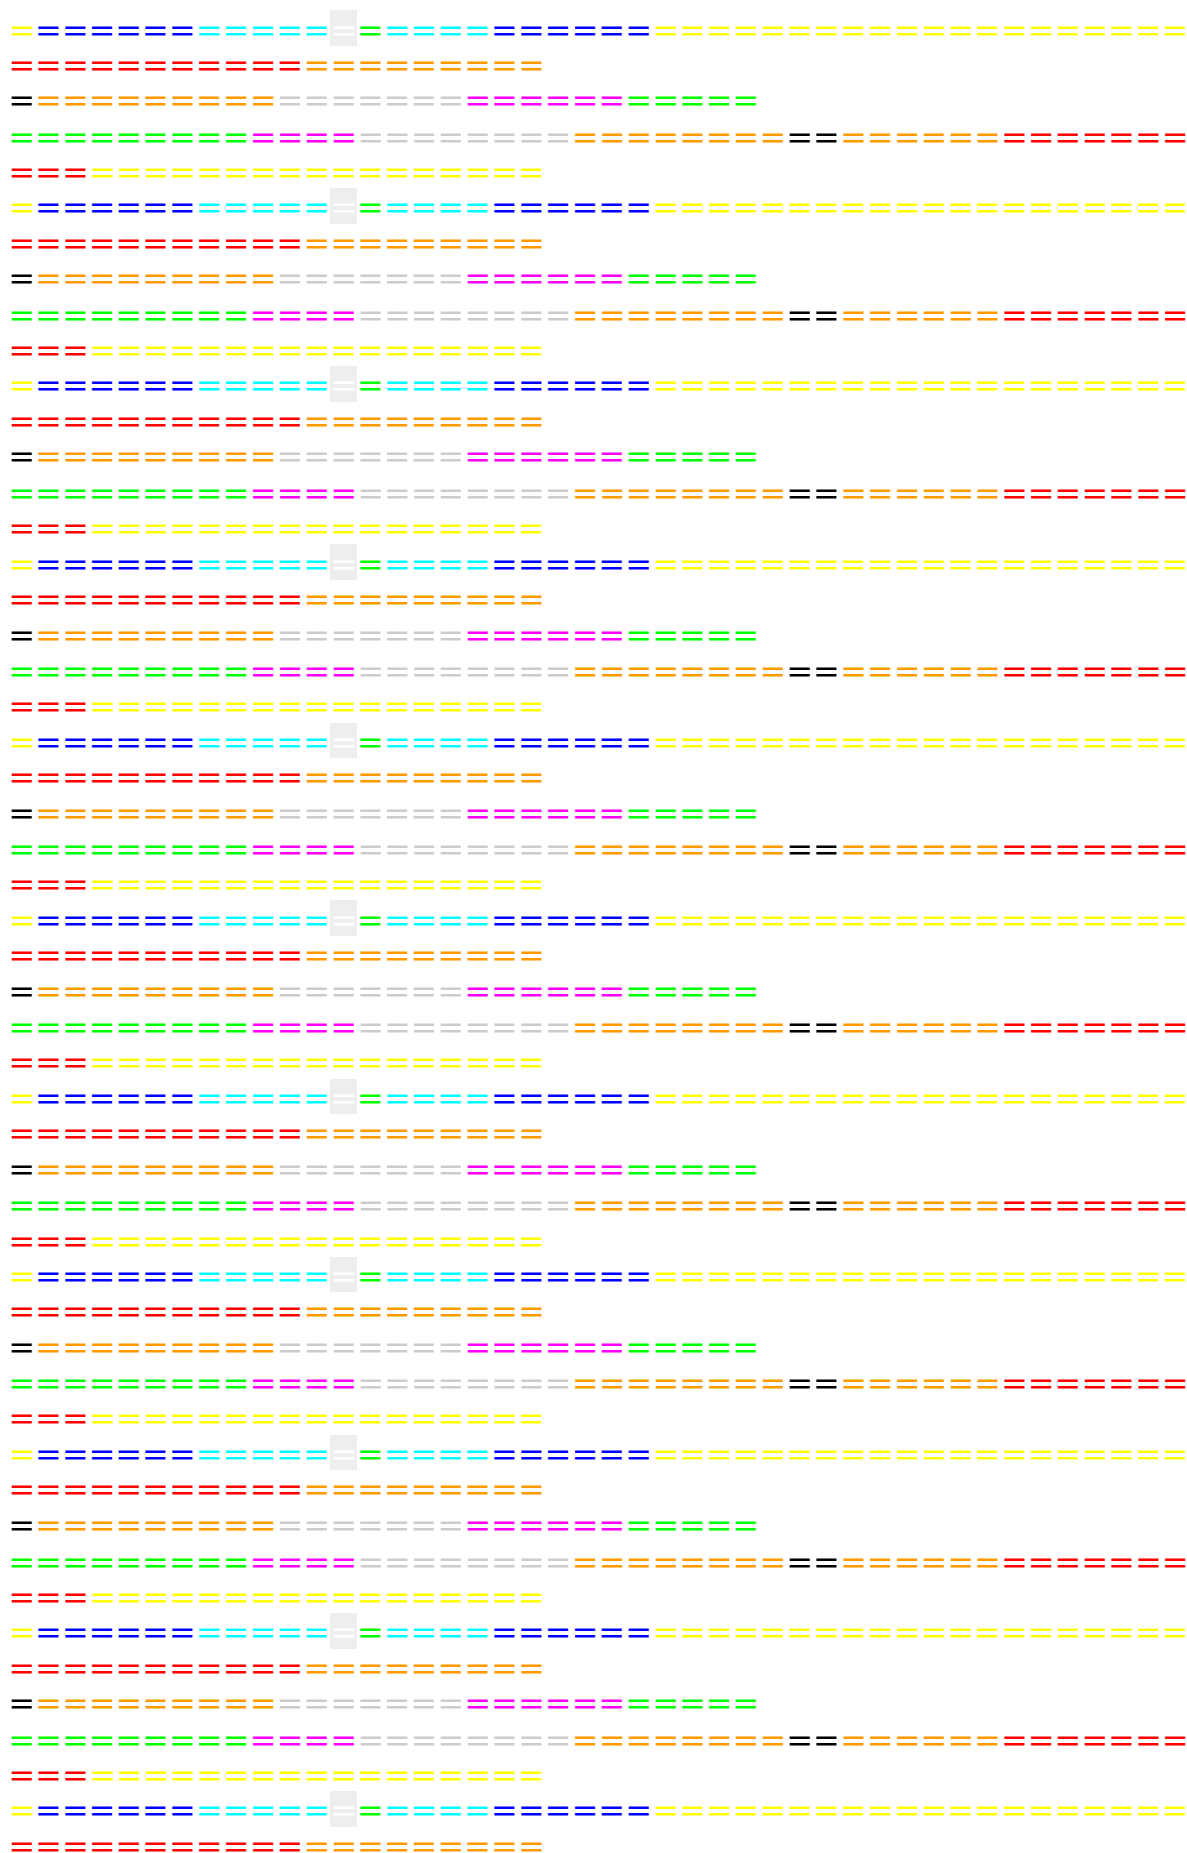

The scholar on earth loses himself in all these laws and degrees.

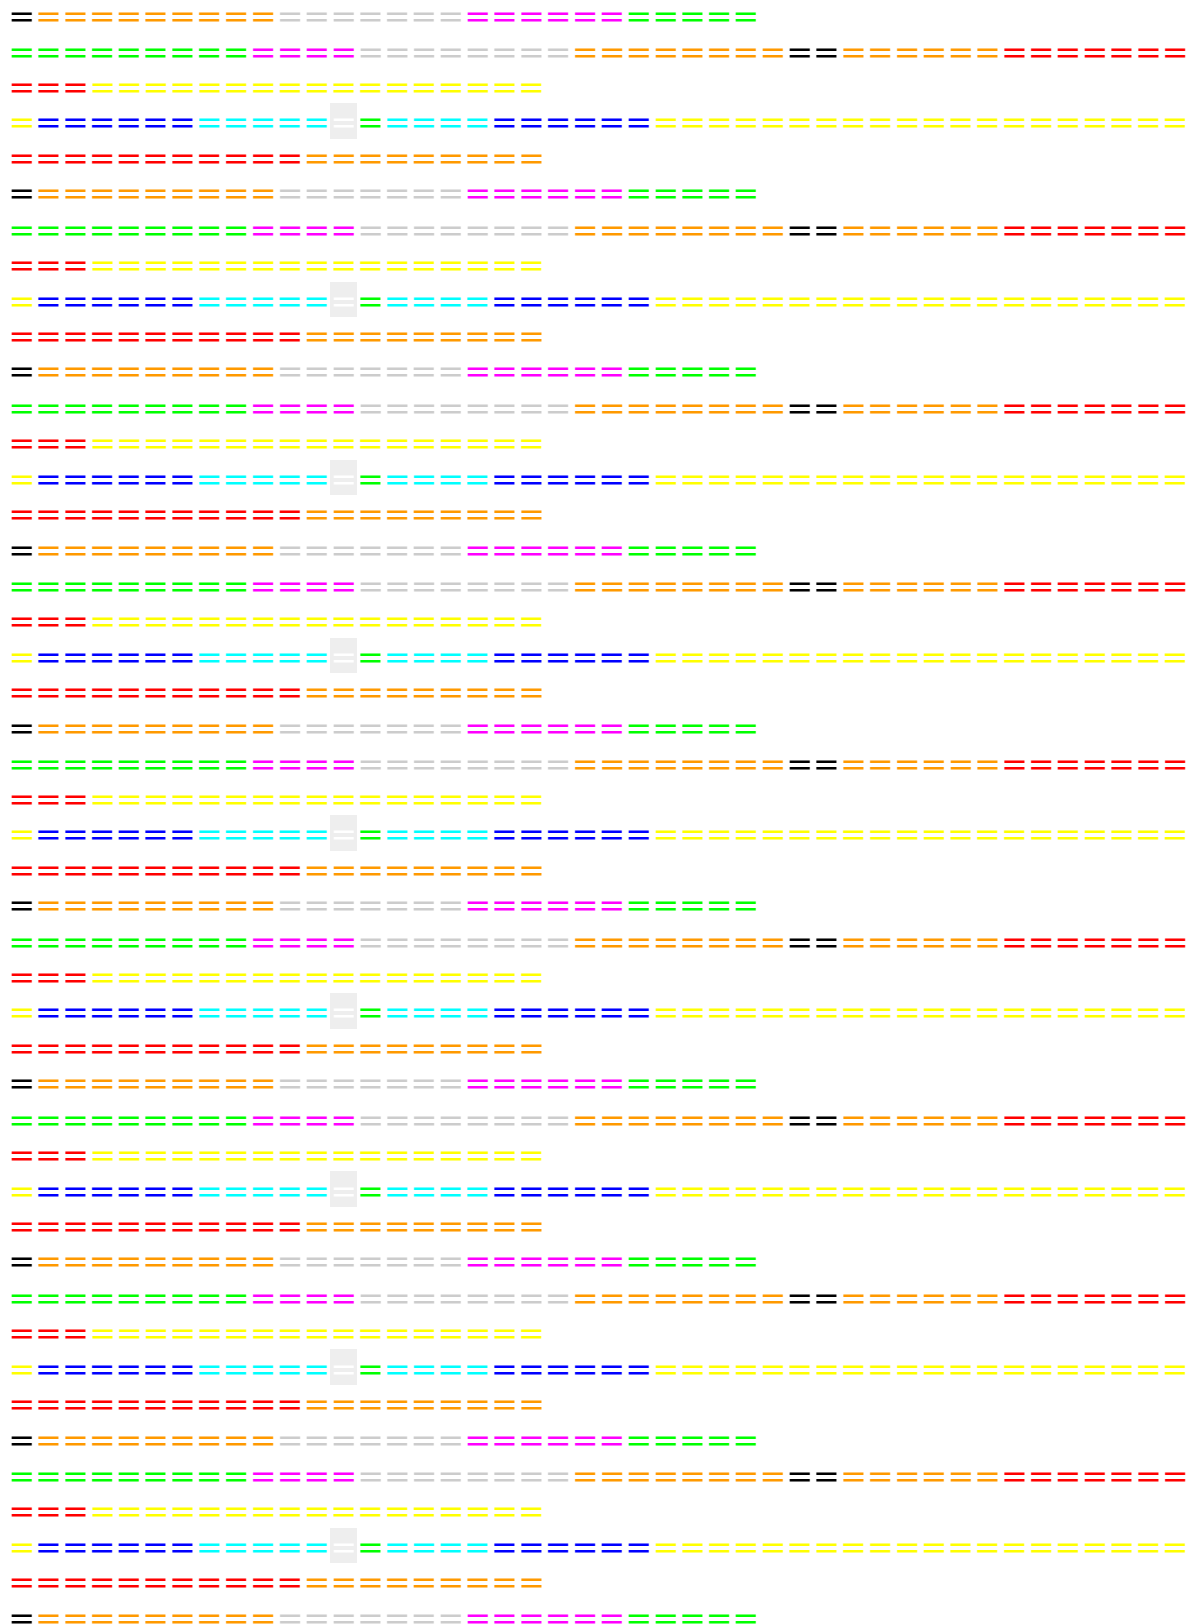

Yet he could unveil the great mystery, but then he must first accept our lives and consciousness to see behind this veil. It is only possible through our consciousness, as people on earth only think materially! But matter and life are one. Both of these, of which, however, from the material to the 301

Turkey is living between good and evil and she shall soon have to show her colors. Just as in each nation there are people who do not know what way to go and therefore just run with the strongest ones, thus there are also nations as such who do not know how to choose. But this is not the issue in these decisive times. Sooner or later it shall come so far that a nation will have to decide her standpoint.
Not one nation can remain outside of this unity which is being established by the masters, and thus Turkey, too, shall join the House of Israel. If she will not join, the peoples of Israel shall isolate her completely.
Spain and Portugal belong to the unconscious grades.
Spain herself has descended to the heathenly nations:
However, just like Turkey, she shall not be able to walk her own way outside of the House of Israel. Together with Portugal she shall join Israel in time.
How is it now to explain that some of the countries remained neutral? This depends upon the level of life of that nation and on the Karma which it had to experience.
These nations have lived through all their experiences, have suffered and fought so much that their Karma is dissolved, or they are still prostrate from their wounds and first have to recover from their fight for life and death. The own past of these nations speaks thus and determines their present-day standpoint.

Now we want to throw a glance at the peoples of the East. The Indian peoples have already been educated to Israel, they obtained their consciousness, especially through the tribe of Moses which is England, and through the Netherlands. Starting out from Europe, the masters built on the spiritual unity on Earth. The different nations of Israel took over their tasks for this cause. The Colonies seem to be in a class for themselves in this respect, but the apparent domination of these peoples by Israel has really been nothing else but the education of these peoples, of these unconscious masses to the state of consciousness which the mother countries already had achieved. Thus, as the astral laws which have caused these events to take place, are speaking to your life, they appear in an entirely different light.

The oppression of the Oriental peoples was really not the goal of the masters, it was rather their education.

These peoples who belonged to the lowest grades of mankind could not be left behind. Without them there could not be any spiritual unity on Earth. That these peoples were not very keen on Occidental intervention, was clear, and they had shown this on many occasions. Also now, in this war, they would bestir themselves and start the fight for their independence. But England had to suppress this with strict measures, for she could not have an enemy in her back. After this war the Oriental peoples should receive their freedom and be enabled to begin with their own lives. They shall have to arrange it so, however that their plan of existence shall fit in with the wide plan of the masters.

I mentioned before that these peoples of the East belong to the lowest grades of mankind. If you understand me right, you will agree with me that this is not meant in a spiritual sense. Their faith is considerably deeper than that of the Occidental man. Their intuition, too, is further developed. But in spite of this, the Orient has to follow the Occident. Christ, the highest consciousness in space, came to the West because it was there that the highest earthly consciousness was in existence. Here He brought the Holy Gospel.

Europe was chosen to spread it over the entire world.

All Oriental peoples shall come to Christ and accept His Holy Gospel, and this is just another task for Israel!

For China and Japan the laws of Israel have again a different significance because both these nations have reached their grade of existence. They are independent nations, and while China belongs to Israel, Japan belongs to the heathens.

for a moment - never taking into account being a child. I am faced with an enormous problem. If I can solve the riddle, this statement will fall over and a new life will begin on earth. But I can't do it yet! If we assume that as a human being you can experience true reality during a dream, then I would be there.
Then Renét could be as pure as gold to you. But then millions of scaffolding flow towards me, like stones for our new building, which is now my own university. We'll see, I'm

I read all this, but I don't feel like I've finished writing yet.
And look, what comes next?

"I heard the song of a wind. That wind was alive. Truly human.
That wind whizzes through me, I hear it. The wind distorts, makes everything mirror-smooth, I look in a mirror. And now the word comes: "If I say "suffer", then that is you. When I say:
"you are one

- doubter" then that's you! I'm not cheating on you! I'm hard but you have to experience me, I look cold, but I'm warmth! Now go on!"

And I understood everything! Oh, what mercy! How is it possible. I saw the face of a wind, I spoke with a personality, the night is now lighter, lighter than ever before. I was that night!
For He has not created darkness. How do we get out? And all this because of a child who is already drawing with poop. It's unnatural I, I then saw my father and my mother in this mirror. It became space! I asked him: "I have no doubt, but is it night where you are now? Because I don't believe that you have to wait for that trumpet sound? Is mother with you and will she also get new bones to come out later? And do you want to convince me that the trumpet sound will really sound? Are you not getting in the way? How do you want, I ask you, from the crumbs that are still left? What we call praying is muttering! We have no right to say the Amen! That will come much, much later! Are you still walking with a mask?

His look was gone, his figure was gone and I no longer want anything to do with his personality. What he was here is over! Now he is. Wind! Wind with a touch. Wind with an eloquence that would give you fits as an ordinary person, because it is so natural!

But they don't know that yet here, I have to tell them that, I, who am a layman! \

I know now. Whoever is good will definitely come! But it is different than we think, no matter how learned we are. Father, you read your Bible Father, above us there is light Father, there is no night! The sun does not revolve around the earth, we revolve around the sun! My astrologer friend gets 142/directly. If only I knew where he was, he would get flowers. However, I don't want anything to do with him because he's kicking me into the ditch. I now think that I can help Hans.

Now you read your Bible, but think of the beginning and everything else that you never understood. Oh, Father!

I know enough now. I will continue on this basis. Now I can talk. I know I shouldn't try to analyze all of this now. It is part of me and will therefore come to fruition in due time. I can order first then. Hans, I have letters for you! I'll come soon! Perhaps today!

Our lives lead from darkness to light is in my diary! And I already know that! I thank you for it! It's awesome! The life of the day faded from me, and another took its place. If this isn't harmony, I don't know what is. When I woke up, after having slept through the day, new strength emanated from me, a strength that was not there yesterday. My nerves had calmed down, as if I had drank from the source of all life, which so few people know how to find! And yet its waters flow from the human heart; you stand on it, you live in it, it floods our feet, but people think that the water is cloudy and that it even stinks! The splashes fly around your ears, it spills on you! Yet it is as clear as anything.

I'm already drinking it and I wouldn't miss this for the world. It was always there, and despite everything, it is still there! You just have to want to see it. Is thirst normal? You think you are thirsty, but you are not thirsty, you just think so.

I no longer believe that the soul is in this world for the first time. I do realize that I don't know everything about it, otherwise I would be ashamed! However, I have to see it first, but if I don't believe it, I won't. So I guess I'm still a fool. I remain careful!

I first wrote Erica a short note. I told her:

"You are changing after all. I dreamed it last night. What we humans see as fallen flowers is only an appearance, you will never become a nude runner, because everything remains! Others will pick it up for you. And you will send it home. It lies upstairs and makes drawings with feces! Oh, how stupid we humans can be. Erica. If you do not understand these rules, crumple up this note and throw it away in your wastebasket. If it irritates you, remember that I don't have any other medicine for you yet. My pharmacy is open day and night. I don't mind changes in the weather, I like storms, rain and wind. I'm starting to want to go riding, I think, Erica, that I'm going to buy a horse. What are you doing?"

"If I have understood you correctly, Alcar, then a psychopath is sicker than an insane person?"

"Indeed, André, a psychopath has lost everything and is starting to rebuild normal life. An insane person loses himself for ten or twenty, some for a maximum of sixty-five percent, but it losing complete consciousness is not possible. The soul takes care of this. There may be a split in personality, a semi-insanity. However, to completely lose material consciousness borders on nonsensical for those who accept these laws. But do you understand how far apart all these diseases are and that the woman with her stones is much, much sicker than this poor woman? Do you also understand that the first degrees protect themselves, but that these people cannot be helped?

This insanity is not a weakness of personality, for this life is too conscious to experience the unconscious. However, this is not understood by scholars. The phenomena that have to do with the character, the character traits that have yet to awaken, mean for these sick people that the personality is still the grade of life.

must accept. These lunatics have awakened, have mastered that sensitivity, but have succumbed. The other degrees are possible Don't succumb yet!"

André looked at the poor woman. Her body had fallen asleep and yet she was awake. Who around her could feel this? "Come, André, we will continue."

André walked behind his leader in a daze and could hardly think anymore. Yet he had to remain himself or he would have to return to his body. He had been to hell. He had seen and experienced the demons there, and also how they lived there, but he had not encountered a problem like this there.

They could do whatever they wanted here. The material man was trapped in his own garment and was sucked dry.

André wanted to stay strong and learn all these laws. Through this he would learn and receive a different consciousness. Only then would he be able to help other people on earth because he would then know something about the infinity of God.

His master walked ahead of him and he followed him.

How big was Alcar. He went to all this trouble to convince the people of earth of the divine truths. This pure spirit of love descended into the sphere of the earth and was in awe of all these accidents, 286 for their suffering and death, but he was not yet accepted. If only humanity understood him. One day it would come to this!

Now his master turned a corner and continued on his way. However, Master Alcar did not have to make this detour. When André thought of this, Alcar turned around and said:

"No, that is not necessary for me, André, but I have adjusted myself to material life and now I have to accept these laws.

are you clear, André?"

André nodded to his master, he understood everything. It was always wonderful to him that his master knew what he was thinking about. How many times had he experienced this and each time he found it wonderful. He now focused on his leader and saw where they were going and who they were encountered along the way. He saw the sisters and brothers of the institution as he also experienced this on earth, but now this was done through his master. Soon he would be able to do that on his own. What Alcar did was still far removed from him, but André knew when he did it himself could. In the first happy sphere one possessed this sensitivity, this consciousness.

The people who were locked up here were also sensitive, but that sensitivity belonged to material existence. They lived it up and now came into conflict with the laws of God, against which they tore themselves to pieces.

He understood a lot about the astral life and felt able to awaken others to eternal existence, but people did not want to awaken yet and preferred to remain unconscious. They thought it was too difficult. In this life one had to want to lose oneself, but in return one received increased consciousness. One had to be able to sacrifice one's life for those spiritual treasures, but those who could not do so remained insensitive! This happened unerringly!

Life on earth was wonderful. Those who were busy losing themselves there awakened to the higher. That's how the laws worked. If one perished on earth, another life followed, in which the laws that caused the downfall had to be continued until internalization followed automatically. It was very clear. Those who were not yet ready would have to start soon because not one soul could escape this. This was the cosmic and divine justice for all the children of God.

André saw new problems before him and he realized that the past was the present and that in the present one felt the previous existence. The now was the new beginning. In the past man had sinned against all these laws and in the present everything had to be made right.

Calmly he is thinking all this over and now there is not even a trace of demanding and wishing in him. Now he may ask for forgiveness, for now he has come to understanding, surrender and knowledge. He kneels down and asks his divine Master for forgiveness and then he sees that he is not alone on Golgotha. Millions of souls are following him, following his life on Earth with Christ and trace their own lives and past. Thus they, too, acquire profoundness, understanding and surrender. And Judas prays:

"God, oh my God, forgive me my faults. I did not mean to betray your Son. I meant to awaken Jewry. I shall atone for everything, but a traitor I am not. Your Son and Holy Child knows it. I am asking you forgive me."

And light and warmth and happiness have come into him. Just as he was thinking that nothing could help him and as he was giving himself and everything up, he felt himself opening up and embraced by radiating light. Life around him dissolves, Judas is alone on Golgotha; a golden light comes forth, outshining his puny, little life. Judas raises his eyes and, behold, he is seeing the face of his divine Master. "Master, my Master, it is you, the Messiah. Can you forgive me?"

Judas feels himself lifted into the sacredness and splendor of the Child of God, Jesus Christ. His eyes cannot leave this bright face. Then he hears Him say:

"Judas, Judas, are you still doubting?"

He cannot utter a word. Judas is overwhelmed through this inexpressible event. And then Christ continues: "Everything has been forgiven to you, Judas, everything; you have learned to know yourself. Go back now to the spheres of light and follow your way there. You know the laws and my Father. Come, my son, now everything is forgotten." Judas feels now how he is being received in the life of Christ, he knows himself being carried by His holy powers. for forgiveness, my God. Help me,

JUDAS ISCARIOT 235

He feels himself rising higher and higher, between heaven and earth he receives his Master's blessing. Then Christ dissolves for him, but in Judas happiness is now singing, free, as he is now from wrong thought. The astral world is receiving Judas; like all the life of God, he is returning to his Alfather.

His brother apostles had been experiencing the miracle of the spiritualized materialization with him. After this they returned to the life in the fourth cosmic grade. They are further advanced than Judas; once they had offered their lives for their Master.

But where are the others who had a part in the drama on Golgotha? Those who had crucified Christ?

They all had to return to Earth in order to bring themselves into harmony with the laws of God and those of eternity. They, too, had been held captive by Golgotha. They are faced with the task of bringing their cause and effect to a logical conclusion. The curses under which they had come at that time are still upon them. No one can escape this. God can not give us remission, —we have to atone for every wrong step we do.

It is not necessary to hear the story of each individual person that had part in the drama of Golgotha. After your death, when you shall be on This Side, you may return to Golgotha yourself and witness there the details of those tremendous events. Then only shall you be able to understand how holy the Life of Christ is.

Then you shall also see how severe and just God's laws are. As Judas had to experience this, thus every soul in space will have to undergo it.

However, I would like to touch upon the stories of two of the persons concerned, namely Pilate of whom I have to say a few words only, and Caiaphas whom I am covering in the following chapter of this book. The knowledge of the life of Caiaphas I consider necessary if you wish to understand the mighty problems of your own time.

don't like of cards. I surrender. I read:
When Erica arrived between three and four months, her symptoms were normal disappeared, or else, so that we did not see them. I then said.
then there will be a different effect, the material systems now take on meaning. And she was calm. Later, symptoms appeared again, they then played the piano as I will never hear it again. Was it inspiration, she asked me? I said, I don't know. I don't know what inspiration, but that mask has also fallen a long time ago. We know now what inspiration is! If you are not completely at one hundred percent, say René, you can never experience true inspiration when you give. You have to exhaust yourself completely first. That means he does this feels. I believe that he feels and understands Van Gogh. Inspiration is spiritual reception. You are now in contact for René and for Mohammed with supernatural worlds, with ghosts! People who are disconnected from the physical systems. That's what they say, but when will we get this? the evidence? This mask is far from falling. So I continue.

When René was born — because nothing special happened afterwards more — we stood in front of other masks. Too big a head.

Erica from the cook, it was raining. I believe these were the after-effects for the soul. She was one with her child all that time! I'm already taking this on and this is influenced while wearing. What René gave her, let her experience, she couldn't get rid of it all at once, she had to undergo And so that happened. I have then talked to her and took her on this journey, which has not yet come to an end is. About the jungle stages, not about the homecoming, because even now we always experience something of that journey, our journey, through hell and heavens went. René's head changed. I now think, too big material impact. This tissue stood for the deformation, but it did not come so far. After three months you could already see this head changing. A material one operation with a spiritual foundation. There are no complexes to see. The doctors didn't know, neither did we. Still, I had mine feelings for it. These were, as I said before: spiritual distortion, but it didn't get to that point!

And then we started the journey. Erica recovered, René recovered phenomena. He smeared feces and made drawings by. So we see that those feelings already revealed themselves at that time. Now it has become art. Then came the notes. And my dreams. I cannot answer those notes. As soon as possible I hope to get the answer. We know of his departure to the institution. The inner life predominated. What remains is my dreams, my dissolve from this world. This is how I got in touch with him. When René was in the crib, it already started, he came loose of the physical systems. His pre-century life as a jogi or magician awakened to his personality. What I experienced as a dream, was for him an occult law. I was frantic, but because of him. Because me followed his life, he drew me to him. I can't see it any other way. That one the other world, I have talked about it before, is ahead of the world our soul. But we were not yet free, not completely from ourselves, or we should have been able to see that world as it was or is! And I didn't see that. He does, he says: I know those people! I don't, but I probably experienced the first degree of that. I assume that if the soul lives forever and is human, then so are we will not suddenly be in the highest class and first a preliminary study have to make. In any case, it taught me that the soul is attached to the soul physical systems. René was older in that world. He came into life of Rachi-Hadju! The spiritual prodigy woke up, the soul left across the physical systems. This is very simple, it is not possible otherwise, this is the sacred truth. Many Easterners have experienced that and you still hear about it. That this belongs to a Western child is extraordinary. A proof, says Mohammed, that our wisdom is based on the West passes.

What I was able to experience during that time brought me to life from René. There is nothing more that can be said.

Because I wasted, I say it again, I came to unity with his life!

Because I too have that attitude. Mohammed says: you have souls coordination. We have known ourselves in the past. But that is to say, that an unerring hand is now working again on our lives. Poor Hans, then it becomes dangerous! I don't want to think about you anymore!" I walked into the woods to think better. I'm waiting on René. I want to ask him some questions and I'm curious how he will do it. She now answers. I'm looking into what happened during these years. What else do I need to know?

operation and means consciousness. Man must therefore accept normality to internalize what is acquired through motherhood. As a man we walk next to creation, but as a mother we experience all these unconscious degrees and sink into them if our consciousness is not complete.

So when the mother receives a life, André, experiences the birth of the child, this means that this personality as mother is busy acquiring a different and higher degree by experiencing this process. She herself cannot reach out for this. The soul that is attracted will arrange everything automatically, but the mother's degree of life decides. However, it is different when the birth takes place as a result of the carmic law. In that case the personality leaves itself with the mother with whom it has dealings from previous lives are born, regardless of the mother's grade of life. However, attracting one's own degree is the most important thing for the mother's feeling, because now the personality is truly a mother! The mother serves, and through this spatial serving she herself goes higher. Through this birth one life leads to the spiritual awakening through another. Mother and child experience this as one event, one condition, one law, rebirth on earth.

Each grade of life possesses this feeling that determines the attunement of life and has become a personality. Do you understand what I mean, now

we stand for motherhood? Do you feel what it means to be able to live as a mother? The normal being creates, desires to possess the child; the other consciousness is not capable of it. Now we get to know the unconscious, so this life still has to awaken before motherhood. But before that happens, this woman has already experienced succumbing and then we find that degree again among these sick people. It is pure trial and error on the way up, but people on earth do not yet understand the divine purpose of this! An animal loves and can experience motherhood. But animals are not people. It is now necessary that the personality as a human being starts to follow and experience what is human, if it wants to awaken to its own grades of life. The highest grade of life on earth is the spiritual. Everything that lives below is still spiritually unconscious and successively represents the pre-animal, animal, gross or material grades. All these grades of life are necessary or man would be in the higher ones degrees succumb and no longer awaken. But God knew that the personality would experience step after step and gave His life all these possibilities. During this training we fell, until we finally reached the highest level and then the sphere 300 of light entered. For humans on earth, this is normal consciousness as a mother.

I could go into this in more detail, André, but that would be too much for you. Only later will we follow these laws and then I will explain them to you from the beginning. However, I hope that you have understood that motherhood is the essential thing in Space, because through the mother the personality enters true life, it starts to feel one with God, because it undergoes creation as a mother. All these sick people are not there yet, because these people have yet to reach that height.

One is now a little further along in this than the other, but all now see their lives wasted. This is not a problem with God, because the next life awaits. Thousands of organisms are ready, all of which must be experienced if the personality is to survive to receive conscious motherhood. So it is the weaknesses that must be overcome during life that strengthen the personality.

So all these people, André, still have to awaken to their grade of life and to motherhood. They are backward in their level of life. Their own grade of life is below that of average humanity; However, they do stand for it, that is, for the motherhood in which they will then continue to stand. So they are preparing to participate in creation and to serve God's evolutionary plan as husband and wife, but they are not yet able to do so. This is material insanity. So an insane person is in the process of waking up. As a man he cannot experience anything else but in the next

Living as a woman, he - this person - experiences passionate love, which will soon be aimed at normal, conscious reception. Then this life represents its own grade of life, of which it currently neither understands nor feels anything, because the threshold has yet to be crossed.

Seven material degrees must be experienced by the personality before spiritual attunement is achieved. We therefore immediately see the degree to which man is and can now determine the degree of insanity from this. We now know what this soul must experience and what the astral connection is like. We also know whether someone completely will go down. Whether or not this is possible. The scholar on earth loses himself in all these laws and degrees. Yet he could unveil the great mystery, but then he must first accept our lives and consciousness to see behind this veil. It is only possible through our consciousness, as people on earth only think materially! But matter and life are one. Both of these, of which, however, from the material to the 301

Fatherhood and motherhood forces us to accept those laws. This will get you further. However, you will slowly come back into harmony. If you now know that you commit sin and mistakes in every life and that every thought throws you out of Divine Harmony, you feel what is necessary for this if you want to come back into harmony with Divine creation. We have experienced those laws. Everyone experiences them. You cannot escape it. In those lives we made good. Slowly but surely we started following the right path. We were taught that in the Temples. Do good, do everything according to natural laws and you will take control of yourself me this life and I now feel ready, all this for a short moment to experience.

Soon I won't be able to find the words to explain it to you, but now I feel able to do so. Is this your power? Is this your conscience? How humbly I bow my head before you, who in my eyes are as pure as a child in the Space of God! I want to serve. How much I would like to commit myself to this!"

André surrendered and took in the infinity of the word. Master Alcar followed him and let him experience all this. After this he said: "Whoever believes in Him and wants to be led by Him can never perish! Go on, my André."

"I see in this life," André continued immediately. "I can fathom this life. Is this a psychopath? What should the scientist do if this life were to speak to his own? Would this be the case on earth?

to accept? A psychopath, Master Alcar, is conscious, but the material organs now lack awareness because the personality has distorted the organism. This is what you want to show me and what I have been able to follow. Are you now withdrawing me into my own daytime consciousness?"

"Hand in hand, André, or this life would crush you, it is so deep. The strength that this life has gained through its experiences is awesome."

"Alcar, what an experience! How terrible it is to be in this condition. Me! couldn't believe myself. Where the hell was I living?"

"Between life and death, André. I wanted you to feel this life descended with you to the deepest degree for the psychopath and therein we found each other again. I followed you in everything and then eternal life spoke to your own personality and you experienced spiritual inspiration. Wasn't it powerful?"

"How is it possible, Alcar. I could have talked about that for hours. Will I ever achieve that?"

"You will experience it one day, André. I let you experience this to show you what you can actually experience. We are still a long way from reaching this point height, but it is waiting for you. If you continue in this way, you will one day also receive this grace and you will be able to speak to humanity. Only then will you experience the spiritual word. Were you able to follow this sick person in everything?"

"And Alcar."

"This personality has therefore arrived at this state through its own unconsciousness. This discordant consciousness now distorts the body. It is the soul that must return again to material life, in which it, as a personality, once exceeded all the laws. What is now the beginning stage for this life? The devastating. The personality dominates and is now in disharmony with organic life.

"Alcar, what an experience! How terrible it is to be in this condition. Me I couldn't believe myself. Where the hell was I living?"

During the day

Being one with the mother, the mind deforms the material tissues, yet the emotional life in its deepest being remains awake and thinking. Every person possesses that power, because in the past, which is the subconscious for material life, the soul life feels and thinks normally. That is now the past! In it I made you feel and see and every being possesses this phenomenon. After experiencing numerous births, this sick person can once again enter normal. Do you feel that we can do nothing for this life? There are volumes to be written about this condition. However, this is sufficient, especially because you have been in the deepest degree. This experience gave you the answer to the question: What is a psychopath?" André lived in his own consciousness again. He looked again, but differently than before, at all these sick people, because now he understood them. Girls and boys lived here in the asylum, but all experienced one condition: returning to normal material existence. "The parents are not to blame for this, are they, Alcar?"

u "Not always, at least not due to the disease. With the soul life the parents, however, or they would have attracted the normal. Now these are the laws of cause and effect: one makes right to the other. Not one person can escape this. This condition however, it means the first step to normal. Different lives these psychopaths still have to experience before the normal material has been achieved. Only then does the actual earthly existence begin for those lives. If you feel this, you can follow me in everything and we will then push for it the very last stage. These are the hells in our lives, to which all these sick people are attuned.

The psychopath is no longer aware of anything; he cannot give himself full strength. The personality is, as it were, chained to the body like a prisoner. This life cannot be possessed. That is impossible because there is no feeling. This is also the explanation for the fact that children cannot be possessed. The child experiences material growth and during this process it cannot be attacked by the dark world, because the physically adult person in the astral world cannot enjoy himself in this life. But the psychopath lives next to it and that is to say, this is a half-awake spiritual and half-awake is a material grave in which this consciousness lives.

This daytime consciousness can no longer be fathomed.
It would only be possible to analyze it if one could enter this depth that you just felt and saw before you.
Thousands of these people live on earth. So this sick person now has to go through all the degrees of insanity. You certainly feel what this life 261

"Oh, Alcar, how terrible that is! He has to go through that while he's alive?"

"This is right, my son, and soon he will have much more have to suffer. His physical body will be burned while he will have to undergo this mentally. This man was honored and famous, but the gift, which God gave him to express his feelings in music converting - as the painter does this in colors - was botched, mentally messed up. He also did not think of a God and Now that there are many around him praying, he feels the true and great lack of the Divine love, which he never has given and never wanted to see. Not only did he lack God's love, but he also mocked with everything that is connected with the spiritual. Also from him people only knew his appearance, material clothing. She did not

Thus man reaps what he has sown. "Can't anything be done about that, Alcar? Can we help that poor man? not deliver?"

"No, André. Only God can help here. Neither spirits nor people can change this, because he himself has brought about this situation. He has been told otherwise to live. This happens to all of us during our earthly life; than we are awakened by God's will. This is how man becomes warned, but he often does not feel this. Yet it was God's Hand, which warned him twice. I know this. Once fell he and it was thought that he would die, but some time afterwards, when he regained his health, the old thing began live again and he hated the people and God who were his gave a cross to bear. He was struck down a second time confined to his bed. That's what Crisje is saying, and her words show plainly what her spiritual attitude is.

And a few weeks later Long Hendrik is sick again and the doctor orders him back to bed.

That night Jeus has a strange dream. Father has died and is being buried. But it seems that father plans to fool everybody, including mother. For as the procession is starting for the cemetery, there's Long Hendrik joining the mourners! He is looking with a smile at all the people in black, and also at the casket, his own casket. . . . This is just like daddy, he's always full of jokes thinks Jeus. Then he walks near Jeus, going to his own funeral. What big steps father can make! Jeus is trying to keep step with him but he has to move his little legs very fast. Gerrit, his little brother nudges him with the elbow and says to him:

"You ought to be ashamed, trying to imitate father."

With a shock Jeus awakens. His dream is still clear before his eyes. He decides not to talk about it to father and mother, it may only cause more trouble in the house. Crisje feels now that the old "one-ness" which she always had with Jeus is disturbed.

Suddenly she has to think of the terrible morning when she had to hear, all alone, from Mrs. Einders that Bernard had been run over. Jeus, her spiritual support was asleep, then. In the hours when the human being is asked to stand the test, when he has to show what he can and will, he is always alone, she knows that. Then her thoughts follow this trend: Her Hendrik is sick, Jeus is withdrawing more and more from her, doesn't that indicate a new trial? And the depressed feeling which she has had for the last weeks, doesn't it indicate the same thing?

Father is talking about the things which he is going to do as soon as he may get up again. Some of his old enthusiasm has returned to him.

"Once I'm better again, Cris, I'll act differently, you'll see."

"God will do the right thing by us," thinks Crisje and she can hardly keep her tears back.

Long Hendrik has now plenty of time to observe Crisje in her daily work. Has he ever stopped to think how a woman is spending the hours of her day? She does not only have to take care of seven children, but there is also a sick husband to look after, and in the meantime neighbors are coming and going, people who want advice from Crisje, and help, too, for like everywhere else there is a lot of trouble and misery around here, too. Add to this the work in field and garden, much of which she is doing merely to feed the poor, and Hendrik's respect for Crisje is growing and growing. "You're a saint, Crisje, —how often has he heard people say this to her. And he agrees, she really is a saint!

And then again Hendrik's thoughts are wandering to his boys. Was it wrong of him to adore his children so nt wasn't it a beautiful sight, his six boys in a row! Priests they were to become, professors, singers, nothing was too high, too good for them.
